Dear Parents and Carers,

To help you support your child with their reading development and to understand how phonics is taught in school, we will be running two Phonics Information Meetings on Tuesday 20th November. The first will be at 2.30 - 3.15pm and siblings can attend this session is necessary. There will be another session that evening at 7.15 – 8.00pm. It will be the same presentation for both sessions.

During this session, we will talk about how to say the letter sounds, how phonics is taught at Ardley Hill and how phonic knowledge is used in reading. We will also provide many resources and ideas that will help support you and your children at home.

We highly recommend you come along to one of these sessions to help ensure your child has a smooth and consistent phonics journey. Parental involvement at this early stage is essential to the development of your child, and will enable them to succeed throughout their educational life.

These sessions are particularly useful for those parents who are new to phonics, who would like an understanding of what it is.

Please choose one of the sessions below and return to the office as soon as possible.

We look forward to seeing you there.
